CONUS Support Base Services

Background

∠The events of September 11, 2001 initiated the Global War on Terrorism (GWOT)

Reserve Component GSU and the CONUS Support Base (CSB) were activated to provide mobilization support to the Power Projection Platforms (PPP) and Power Support Platforms (PSP)

- PPPs are Army installations that deploy one or more high priority Active Component units (brigades or larger) and/or mobilize and deploy high priority Army Reserve Component units
- PSPs are Active Army or federally activated state operated installations that strategically deploy individuals from all services, the civilian force and mobilized reserve components

Background

Reserve Components are activated for a specified period of time and may be extended for additional periods

©Operation Enduring Freedom, Operation Iraqi Freedom and other GWOT missions require ongoing GSU/CSB Support for the mobilization and demobilization of soldiers

∠Involuntary extensions will expire in July 2004

©Other GSU/CSB personnel and units will be Released From Active Duty (REFRAD) throughout the year and will not be replaced

©Current requirements are being satisfied by various short term solutions (i.e, local contracting, civilian personnel, and limited Reserve Component personnel extensions and mobilizations)

Requirement
